

Thanks for downloading the rusty engine shed!

It's HO scale, if you want N scale, just print the sheets out at 54%.

Here's a youtube which explains the layers and how to make this engine house:

The prints on their own don't look like much, especially when they are enlarged on the screen. But once you start to build them you'll see them transform.

Here's the link to my youtube channel, with lots of videos by John that show you how to build them.

Don't forget:

- 1) always clean your printer heads before printing.
- 2) Print on the best quality you print can do – not draft!
- 3) If you can, print directly on to card, rather than sticking paper to card.

On the next page is a pic of the buildings for reference, and then the prints.

And please do send pics of your builds – I'd love to see them.

Best

Al
